Nobody steers. That's the point.

Like a real owner you build a stable, choose the races, plan the matings and watch. Ability is in the genes, hidden at first, revealed on the track. The skill is buying well, breeding smart and placing your horse where it can win.

Top up with any of these

USDT · USDC · BTC · ETH · BNB · POL · TRX · LTC · DOGE · BCH · XRP · XLM — withdraw in USDT/USDC any time, 0% from ROX.

Money on ROX is dollars. A $34 purse is $34 next month too. No game token to buy, convert or watch collapse.

02 · YOUR HORSE

Four bloodlines. One ladder.

Bloodline sets where a horse starts, never where it must stay. A $25 Cosmo that keeps winning climbs toward the Group races; the ladder is the same for everyone.

COSMO

FROM $25

Where most racers start. Same rules, and a Super Rare coat on the same terms as a $5M horse. Two wins at the bottom classes pays for it.

22,000 at genesis · $25–$125

NEUTRON

FROM $250

The dependable middle and the backbone of daily racing. A well-campaigned Neutron pays its way.

4,200 at genesis · $250–$1,000

STARFIRE

FROM $2,500

The serious owner's tier. Starts in the middle classes and presses into the Group races against the Hyperions.

690 at genesis · $2,500–$15,000

HYPERION

FROM $25,000

The elite. 102 at genesis, hard-capped at 202 ever. Natural Kepler coats worn by no other bloodline.

Drops are staged. Later waves only mint once earlier ones sell — an undersold wave makes the collection scarcer, never cheaper. The horses on the marketplace today are the first waves.

03 · WINNING

How a $25 horse makes money.

Twelve runners pay the entry. ROX keeps 10%, the rest pays the first three home 60 / 25 / 15. A winner returns roughly 6.5× the entry — at every rung of the ladder.

CLASS	ENTRY	POOL (12 RUNNERS)	1ST	2ND	3RD
Maiden — training, free	$0	–	–	–	–
Class VII	$5	$54	$32.40	$13.50	$8.10
Class VI	$10	$108	$64.80	$27	$16.20
Class V	$25	$270	$162	$67.50	$40.50
Class IV	$50	$540	$324	$135	$81
Class III	$75	$810	$486	$202.50	$121.50
Class II	$90	$972	$583.20	$243	$145.80
Class I	$100	$1,080	$648	$270	$162
G3	$125	$1,350	$810	$337.50	$202.50
G2	$150	$1,620	$972	$405	$243
G1	$200	$2,160	$1,296	$540	$324

Entry fees are live from the platform; pool = 12 × entry less the 10% race fee. Only three of twelve are paid — the nine unplaced fund the purse. Racing is a competition, not an annuity.

Your $25 Cosmo, week one

Bought Monday. Races the free Maiden that afternoon — no entry, no risk, and it shows what it has. Wins twice, gets promoted. Wednesday it runs Class VII for $5 and takes it: $34.20. The horse has paid for itself, and its record — public, permanent — is now worth something to the next buyer.

Four more ways it earns

Stud fees. Stand it at stud and set your own fee. A proven stallion earns for seasons.

Foals. Breed a mare well and sell the foal. Supply cannot be inflated against you.

Resale. Campaign it, sell it on its record — fixed price or auction. Listing is free; ROX keeps 10% of the sale price.

Betting. Seven markets on every Group race, pari-mutuel, with a rolling jackpot on the exotics. Play money today — every account starts with $10,000 to practise with; real money where ROX is licensed.

Auto Race: pick the classes, the days and the times, set a spending cap, and your horse is declared automatically for every race that fits. You do not have to be at your desk five times a day.

04 · WHY ROX

Built so it can't be taken away.

The biggest game in this sport shut down twice in fifteen months and left 100,000 owners with horses that could no longer race. ROX is designed as the structural opposite — every point below is checkable, not promised.

No token — ever

Purses, fees, stud fees and sales are in dollars. Nothing to inflate, dump or die.

Supply capped by arithmetic

26,992 founders, minted once. Breeding slots decay every generation, so the whole population is bounded — forever.

Odds published first

Every coat and breeding probability is public before you spend — the same odds at every price, within each bloodline's own palette.

Provably fair races

One seed per race, published with the result. Anyone can recompute the finish and get the same answer.

Your horse is yours

On Polygon, in your own wallet. If our servers vanished tomorrow, the horse would still be yours.

Every race, in 3D

Replays are identical every time, from the stored result — on the web, and in the Unreal Engine 5 client in cinematic quality.

Had horses in ZED RUN?

They still exist on Polygon. Connect your wallet and the horse itself comes across — same name, same traits, racing on ROX with a Legacy badge, and yours to take home to your wallet whenever you like. Check your wallet now at rox.games/teleport-zed.

Rules that never change under you

A horse's genetics and mechanics are locked at mint. Engine changes are versioned and apply forward, never to horses people already own. Nothing you are owed ever expires — no claim windows, no emails you can miss.

05 · THE MONTHLY

One race a month. You cannot buy your way in.

The ROX Monthly runs on the 1st, on LHS 1140b. There is no entry fee and no ticket — a horse qualifies by what it did on the track that month, and the best are drawn automatically.

1

Race through the month

Every race you run counts. Wins first, then places, then the rating your horse gained over the window.

2

Qualifying closes

Three days before the off the board is final. The top player horses are drawn; house horses only fill what is left.

3

The 1st

They race. Anyone can watch it and bet on it, whether or not they own a runner.

What it pays

Today the Monthly is raced for play money — real betting is not open yet, so ROX earns no betting fee and there is no cash purse to share.

Where licensed, half of ROX's 12% betting fee goes to the first three home. ROX is paid on the fee only — never out of what a bettor wins.

Dress the horse

Neon bands, $25, worn on the head. They change how your horse looks in replays and in the Unreal client — they do not affect racing. A horse's speed is its genetics and nothing else, which is the whole point of publishing the odds.

Nothing here is bought. No entry fee, no pay-to-enter tier, no accessory that makes a horse faster. The only way into the Monthly is to race and win — which is also the only way anybody watching can tell that it means something.

06 · LATER

The horses you can't buy. Only breed.

One parent's colour as the coat, the other's as the markings. None of these were minted; every one exists because a player made it — and the combination space runs past a billion.
